

Sangken Lee received the BS degree in computer science from Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology in 2005 and the PhD degree in computer science and engineering from Seoul National University in 2012. He joined Oak Ridge National Laboratory in 2013 as a post-doctoral research associate and became a research staff in 2015. His research interests include large-scale graph analysis and applications, big data systems and architectures, and information retrieval and recommender systems.